

OFFICE of the ATTORNEY GENERAL
GREG ABBOTT

May 27, 2003

Mr. James M. Frazier, III
Assistant General Counsel
Texas Department of Criminal Justice
P.O. Box 4004
Huntsville, Texas 77342

OR2003-3550

Dear Mr. Frazier:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 181600.

The Texas Department of Criminal Justice (the "department") received a written request for all records pertaining to "the custody, incarceration, and transportation of" two named individuals. You indicate that some of the responsive information will be released to the requestor. You contend, however, that the remaining information coming within the scope of the request is excepted from required disclosure pursuant to sections 552.101, 552.117, and 552.134 of the Government Code.

We note at the outset that you acknowledge that you did not make a timely request for a decision from this office. Section 552.301(a) of the Government Code requires a governmental body to request a decision from the attorney general within ten business days after receiving a request for information that the governmental body wishes to withhold, unless there has been a previous determination that the requested information is excepted from required public disclosure. You state that the department received the records request on March 7, 2003. However, you did not request a decision from this office until March 24, 2003. When a governmental body fails to comply with the requirements of section 552.301, the information at issue is presumed public. Gov't Code § 552.302; Hancock v. State Bd. of Ins., 797 S.W.2d 379 (Tex. App.—Austin 1990, no writ); City of Houston v. Houston Chronicle Publ'g Co., 673 S.W.2d 316, 323 (Tex. App.—Houston [1st Dist.] 1984, no writ); Open Records Decision No. 319 (1982). To overcome this presumption, the governmental body must show a compelling reason to withhold the information. Gov't Code § 552.302; see also Hancock, 797 S.W.2d at 381.

A compelling reason for withholding information is demonstrated where information is made confidential by other law or where third party interests are at issue. Open Records Decision No. 150 (1977). Because you contend that the submitted records are confidential under sections 552.101 and 552.134, we will consider your claims.<sup>1</sup>

Section 552.101 of the Government Code protects “information considered to be confidential by law, either constitutional, statutory, or by judicial decision.” In this regard, we note that a few of the documents you submitted to this office are medical records that are made confidential under the Medical Practice Act (the “MPA”), Occ. Code §§ 151.001 et. seq. Section 159.002 of the Occupations Code provides in pertinent part:

(b) A record of the identity, diagnosis, evaluation, or treatment of a patient by a physician that is created or maintained by a physician is confidential and privileged and may not be disclosed except as provided by this chapter.

(c) A person who receives information from a confidential communication or record as described by this chapter, other than a person listed in Section 159.004 who is acting on the patient’s behalf, may not disclose the information except to the extent that disclosure is consistent with the authorized purposes for which the information was first obtained.

Occ. Code § 159.002(b), (c). The medical records we have identified must be released upon the patient’s signed, written consent, provided that the consent specifies (1) the information to be covered by the release, (2) reasons or purposes for the release, and (3) the person to whom the information is to be released. Occ. Code §§ 159.004, .005. Section 159.002(c) also requires that any subsequent release of medical records be consistent with the purposes for which the governmental body obtained the records. Open Records Decision No. 565 at 7 (1990). Medical records may be released only as provided under the MPA. Open Records Decision No. 598 (1991). For your convenience, we have marked the documents that are medical records subject to the MPA.

You assert that some of the requested information is about a person subject to release on parole and therefore is confidential under section 508.313 of the Government Code. Section 508.313 provides:

(a) All information obtained and maintained, including a victim protest letter or other correspondence, a victim impact statement, a list of inmates eligible for release on parole, and an arrest record of an inmate, is confidential and privileged if the information relates to:

<sup>1</sup>Because we resolve your request under sections 552.101 and 552.134, we need not address the applicability of section 552.117.

(1) an inmate of the institutional division subject to release on parole, release to mandatory supervision, or executive clemency;

(2) a releasee; or

(3) a person directly identified in any proposed plan of release for an inmate.

(b) Statistical and general information relating to the parole and mandatory supervision system, including the names of releasees and data recorded relating to parole and mandatory supervision services, is not confidential or privileged and must be made available for public inspection at any reasonable time.

(c) The department may provide information that is confidential and privileged under Subsection (a) to:

(1) the governor;

(2) a member of the [Board of Pardons and Paroles];

(3) the Criminal Justice Policy Council in performing duties of the council under Section 413.017 [of the Government Code]; or

(4) an eligible entity requesting information for a law enforcement, prosecutorial, correctional, clemency, or treatment purpose.

(d) In this section, “eligible entity” means:

(1) a government agency, including the office of a prosecuting attorney;

(2) an organization with which the department contracts or an organization to which the department provides a grant; or

(3) an organization to which inmates are referred for services by the department.

(e) This section does not apply to information relating to a sex offender that is authorized for release under Chapter 62, Code of Criminal Procedure.

(f) This section does not apply to information that is subject to required public disclosure under Section 552.029 [of the Government Code].

You state that certain of the submitted records are held by the Parole Division of the department and that those records concern an individual who was "an inmate of the institutional division subject to release on parole." Gov't Code § 508.313(a). After reviewing your arguments and the submitted information, we agree that the information you have identified is made confidential by section 508.313. You do not inform us, nor does it appear to this office, that the department is permitted to release the requested information to this requestor under section 508.313(c) or (d).

You also contend that certain of the remaining submitted information must be withheld from the public pursuant to section 552.134(a) of the Government Code, which provides:

Except as provided by Subsection (b) or by Section 552.029 [of the Government Code], information obtained or maintained by the Texas Department of Criminal Justice is excepted from [required public disclosure] if it is information about an inmate who is confined in a facility operated by or under a contract with the department.

You inform us the records at issue pertain an individual confined in a facility operated by or under a contract with the department. Based on this representation, we agree that this information is made confidential under section 552.134.

We note, however, that sections 508.313 and 552.134 are explicitly made subject to section 552.029 of the Government Code, which provides:

Notwithstanding Section 508.313 or 552.134, the following information about an inmate who is confined in a facility operated by or under a contract with the Texas Department of Criminal Justice is subject to required disclosure under Section 552.021:

- (1) the inmate's name, identification number, age, birthplace, physical description, or general state of health or the nature of an injury to or critical illness suffered by the inmate;
- (2) the inmate's assigned unit or the date on which the unit received the inmate, unless disclosure of the information would violate federal law relating to the confidentiality of substance abuse treatment;
- (3) the offense for which the inmate was convicted or the judgment and sentence for that offense;
- (4) the county and court in which the inmate was convicted;
- (5) the inmate's earliest or latest possible release dates;

- (6) the inmate's parole date or earliest possible parole date;
- (7) any prior confinement of the inmate by the Texas Department of Criminal Justice or its predecessor; or
- (8) basic information regarding the death of an inmate in custody, an incident involving the use of force, or an alleged crime involving the inmate.

After reviewing the submitted information, we conclude that the department must withhold the submitted information in its entirety pursuant to sections 508.313 and 552.134 of the Government Code, except to the extent the information consists of information made public under section 552.029 of the Government Code.<sup>2</sup>

In summary, the department may release the medical records we have identified only in accordance with the MPA. The records held by the department's Parole Division are made confidential under section 508.313 and thus must be withheld pursuant to section 552.101, except for any information specifically made public under section 552.029. The department must also withhold all of the remaining submitted records pursuant to section 552.134, except for any information specifically made public under section 552.029.

This letter ruling is limited to the particular records at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other records or any other circumstances.

This ruling triggers important deadlines regarding the rights and responsibilities of the governmental body and of the requestor. For example, governmental bodies are prohibited from asking the attorney general to reconsider this ruling. Gov't Code § 552.301(f). If the governmental body wants to challenge this ruling, the governmental body must appeal by filing suit in Travis County within 30 calendar days. Id. § 552.324(b). In order to get the full benefit of such an appeal, the governmental body must file suit within 10 calendar days. Id. § 552.353(b)(3), (c). If the governmental body does not appeal this ruling and the governmental body does not comply with it, then both the requestor and the attorney general have the right to file suit against the governmental body to enforce this ruling. Id. § 552.321(a).

If this ruling requires the governmental body to release all or part of the requested information, the governmental body is responsible for taking the next step. Based on the statute, the attorney general expects that, within 10 calendar days of this ruling, the governmental body will do one of the following three things: 1) release the public records; 2) notify the requestor of the exact day, time, and place that copies of the records will be provided or that the records can be inspected; or 3) notify the requestor of the governmental body's intent to challenge this letter ruling in court. If the governmental body fails to do one of these three things within 10 calendar days of this ruling, then the requestor should report that failure to the attorney general's Open Government Hotline, toll free, at (877) 673-6839. The requestor may also file a complaint with the district or county attorney. Id. § 552.3215(e).

<sup>2</sup>We note, however, that none of the submitted information appears to be made public under section 552.029(8).

If this ruling requires or permits the governmental body to withhold all or some of the requested information, the requestor can appeal that decision by suing the governmental body. Id. § 552.321(a); Texas Dep't of Pub. Safety v. Gilbreath, 842 S.W.2d 408, 411 (Tex. App.—Austin 1992, no writ).

Please remember that under the Act the release of information triggers certain procedures for costs and charges to the requestor. If records are released in compliance with this ruling, be sure that all charges for the information are at or below the legal amounts. Questions or complaints about over-charging must be directed to Hadassah Schloss at the Texas Building and Procurement Commission at (512) 475-2497.

If the governmental body, the requestor, or any other person has questions or comments about this ruling, they may contact our office. We note that a third party may challenge this ruling by filing suit seeking to withhold information from a requestor. Gov't Code § 552.325. Although there is no statutory deadline for contacting us, the attorney general prefers to receive any comments within 10 calendar days of the date of this ruling.

Sincerely,
