

OFFICE of the ATTORNEY GENERAL
GREG ABBOTT

August 4, 2003

Mr. James M. Frazier, III
Assistant General Counsel
Texas Department of Criminal Justice
P.O. Box 4004
Huntsville, Texas 77342

OR2003-5394

Dear Mr. Frazier:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 185287.

The Texas Department of Criminal Justice (the "TDCJ") received a request for "any and all documentation pertaining to Intake #01003501, to include investigators notes, witness statements, respondent's statements, etc." You assert the requested information is excepted from disclosure under sections 552.101 and 552.117 of the Government Code. We reviewed the information you submitted and considered the exceptions you claim.

Initially, we note the submitted information is subject to section 552.022 of the Government Code. Section 552.022 provides as follows:

[T]he following categories of information are public information and not excepted from required disclosure under this chapter unless they are expressly confidential under other law:

- (1) a completed report, audit, evaluation, or investigation made of, for, or by a governmental body, except as provided by Section 552.108[.]

Gov't Code § 552.022(a)(1). In this instance, the submitted information constitutes a completed sexual harassment investigation. Thus, the TDCJ must release the information, unless it is expressly confidential under other law or excepted from disclosure under section 552.108. As you claim mandatory exceptions under sections 552.101 and 552.117 of the Government Code, we will address your arguments under these provisions.

Section 552.101 of the Government Code excepts from disclosure "information considered to be confidential by law, either constitutional, statutory, or by judicial decision." Section 552.101 encompasses the doctrine of common-law privacy. For information to be protected from public disclosure under common-law privacy, the information must meet the criteria set out in Industrial Foundation v. Texas Industrial Accident Board, 540 S.W.2d 668 (Tex. 1976), cert. denied, 430 U.S. 931 (1977). Common-law privacy protects information when (1) it contains highly intimate or embarrassing facts, the release of which would be highly objectionable to a reasonable person, and (2) the public has no legitimate interest in the disclosure of the information. Id. at 685; Open Records Decision No. 611 at 1 (1992).

In Morales v. Ellen, 840 S.W.2d 519 (Tex. App.—El Paso 1992, writ denied), the court addressed the applicability of the common-law privacy doctrine to files of an investigation of allegations of sexual harassment. The investigation files in Ellen contained individual witness statements, an affidavit by the individual accused of the misconduct responding to the allegations, and conclusions of the board of inquiry that conducted the investigation. Id. at 525. The court ordered the release of the affidavit of the person under investigation and the conclusions of the board of inquiry, stating that the public's interest was sufficiently served by the disclosure of such documents. Id. In concluding, the Ellen court held that "the public did not possess a legitimate interest in the identities of the individual witnesses, nor the details of their personal statements beyond what is contained in the documents that have been ordered released." Id. When there is an adequate summary of the investigation, the summary must be released, but the identities of the victims and witnesses must be redacted and their detailed statements must be withheld from disclosure.

In this instance, we find the Fact Finding Memorandum dated January 29, 2002 constitutes an adequate summary of the investigation. Further, we believe a handwritten document and the Inter-Office Communications memorandum, both of which are dated January 9, 2002, constitute statements of the accused. Therefore, we conclude that under Ellen, the TDCJ must release the Fact Finding Memorandum and the statements of the investigated person, but must withhold the identifying information of the witnesses under section 552.101 in conjunction with common-law privacy. Although the victim's identifying information is normally private information that must be withheld, in this instance, we note that the requestor, the alleged victim of sexual harassment, has a right of access to her identifying information. See Gov't Code § 552.023 (providing that a person has a special right of access to information relating to person and protected from public disclosure by laws intended to protect that person's privacy interests). Accordingly, we have marked only the identifying information of the witnesses that the TDCJ must withhold.<sup>1</sup> The TDCJ must withhold the remainder of the submitted information under section 552.101 and common-law privacy.<sup>2</sup>

This letter ruling is limited to the particular records at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other records or any other circumstances.

This ruling triggers important deadlines regarding the rights and responsibilities of the governmental body and of the requestor. For example, governmental bodies are prohibited from asking the attorney general to reconsider this ruling. Gov't Code § 552.301(f). If the governmental body wants to challenge this ruling, the governmental body must appeal by filing suit in Travis County within 30 calendar days. Id. § 552.324(b). In order to get the full benefit of such an appeal, the governmental body must file suit within 10 calendar days. Id. § 552.353(b)(3), (c). If the governmental body does not appeal this ruling and the governmental body does not comply with it, then both the requestor and the attorney general have the right to file suit against the governmental body to enforce this ruling. Id. § 552.321(a).

If this ruling requires the governmental body to release all or part of the requested information, the governmental body is responsible for taking the next step. Based on the statute, the attorney general expects that, within 10 calendar days of this ruling, the governmental body will do one of the following three things: 1) release the public records; 2) notify the requestor of the exact day, time, and place that copies of the records will be provided or that the records can be inspected; or 3) notify the requestor of the governmental body's intent to challenge this letter ruling in court. If the governmental body fails to do one of these three things within 10 calendar days of this ruling, then the requestor should report that failure to the attorney general's Open Government Hotline, toll free, at (877) 673-6839. The requestor may also file a complaint with the district or county attorney. Id. § 552.3215(e).

If this ruling requires or permits the governmental body to withhold all or some of the requested information, the requestor can appeal that decision by suing the governmental body. Id. § 552.321(a); Texas Dep't of Pub. Safety v. Gilbreath, 842 S.W.2d 408, 411 (Tex. App.—Austin 1992, no writ).

Please remember that under the Act the release of information triggers certain procedures for costs and charges to the requestor. If records are released in compliance with this ruling, be sure that all charges for the information are at or below the legal amounts. Questions or complaints about over-charging must be directed to Hadassah Schloss at the Texas Building and Procurement Commission at (512) 475-2497.

<sup>1</sup>We emphasize, however, that if the TDCJ receives another request for information that relates to the requestor, and the person that requests the information does not have a special right of access to it under section 552.023 of the Government Code, the TDCJ should resubmit the information to this office and request another ruling.

<sup>2</sup> As section 552.101 is dispositive, we need not address your other claimed exception.

If the governmental body, the requestor, or any other person has questions or comments about this ruling, they may contact our office. We note that a third party may challenge this ruling by filing suit seeking to withhold information from a requestor. Gov't Code § 552.325. Although there is no statutory deadline for contacting us, the attorney general prefers to receive any comments within 10 calendar days of the date of this ruling.

Sincerely,
