Dear Mr. Gambrell:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 227930.

The Houston Police Department (the "department") received a request for the following information pertaining to a named police officer: 1) sustained complaints against the officer, 2) use of force incidents against the officer, 3) personnel orders with the officer's name on them, 4) memos and correspondence concerning this officer, 5) the "departmental 3 x 5," 6) the officer's payroll records, 7) the officers's training history and instructor's observations, 8) the number of DWI and DUI arrests the officer has made, and 9) records of the officer's specialized training. You state that the department will release some of the requested information. You claim that the remaining requested information is excepted from disclosure under sections 552.101, 552.108, and 552.130 of the Government Code. We have considered the exceptions you claim and reviewed the submitted information.

Section 552.101 of the Government Code excepts from disclosure "information considered to be confidential by law, either constitutional, statutory, or by judicial decision." This section encompasses information made confidential by other statutes. Section 143.089(g) of the Local Government Code provides:

A fire or police department may maintain a personnel file on a fire fighter or police officer employed by the department for the department's use, but the department may not release any information contained in the department file to any agency or person requesting information relating to a fire fighter or police officer. The department shall refer to the director or the director's designee a person or agency that requests information that is maintained in the fire fighter's or police officer's personnel file.

Local Gov't Code § 143.089(g); see also City of San Antonio v. Texas Attorney General, 851 S.W.2d 946, 949 (Tex. App.—Austin 1993, writ denied) (concluding that legislature intended to deem confidential information maintained by police department for its own use under Local Gov't Code § 143.089(g)); City of San Antonio v. San Antonio Express-News, 47 S.W.3d 556 (Tex. App.—San Antonio 2000, no pet.) (restricting confidentiality under section 143.089(g) to information reasonably related to police officer's or fire fighter's employment relationship); Attorney General Opinion JC-0257 at 6-7 (2000) (addressing functions of section 143.089(a) and (g) files).

You inform us that the submitted information is contained in the police officer's departmental personnel file maintained under section 143.089(g). Based on your representation and our review of the information at issue, we conclude that this information is confidential under section 143.089(g) of the Local Government Code and is therefore excepted from disclosure under section 552.101 of the Government Code as information made confidential by law.¹ As our ruling is dispositive, we need not address your remaining claims.

If this ruling requires the governmental body to release all or part of the requested information, the governmental body is responsible for taking the next step.
