Dear Mr. Simpson:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 275676.

The Texas Medical Board (the "board") received a request for information regarding license, complaints, disciplinary action, investigations, and compliance regarding a named physician. You state that the board has provided the requestor with a copy of the public verification and physician profile information for the named physician, including any disciplinary actions, and other information that the board believes is not excepted from required public disclosure.¹ You state that you are withholding some responsive information pursuant to a previous determination issued by our office in Open Records Letter No. 2006-14198 (2006). See Gov't Code § 552.301(a) (allowing a governmental body to withhold information subject to a previous determination). Open Records Decision No. 673 (2001). You claim that the remaining responsive information is excepted from disclosure under section 552.101 of the ¹We note that the Texas Medical Practice Act, subtitle B of title 3 of the Occupations Code, requires the board to make public certain information concerning physicians licensed in this state. See Occ. Code §§ 154.004 (requiring board to make public on request summary of any previous disciplinary board order against specific physician licensed in Texas), .006 (requiring board's compilation of physician profiles in format easily available to the public).

Government Code. We have considered the exception you claim and reviewed the submitted information.²

This office recently issued Open Records Letter No. 2007- 03117 (2007), which serves as a previous determination under section 552.301(a) of the Government Code for the board with respect to complaint investigatory records compiled by the board during an investigation of a license holder. Therefore, pursuant to that previous determination, the board may withhold the submitted complaint and disciplinary investigative file under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with section 164.007 of the Occupations Code. Open Records Decision No. 673 (2001) (a governmental body may rely on a previous determination when elements of law, fact, and circumstances have not changed, decision concludes specific, clearly delineated category of information is excepted, and a governmental body is explicitly informed that it need not seek a decision from this office to withhold information in response to future requests).

This letter ruling is limited to the particular records at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other records or any other circumstances.

This ruling triggers important deadlines regarding the rights and responsibilities of the governmental body and of the requestor. For example, governmental bodies are prohibited from asking the attorney general to reconsider this ruling. Gov't Code § 552.301(f). If the governmental body wants to challenge this ruling, the governmental body must appeal by filing suit in Travis County within 30 calendar days. Id. § 552.324(b). In order to get the full benefit of such an appeal, the governmental body must file suit within 10 calendar days. Id. § 552.353(b)(3), (c). If the governmental body does not appeal this ruling and the governmental body does not comply with it, then both the requestor and the attorney general have the right to file suit against the governmental body to enforce this ruling. Id. § 552.321(a).

If this ruling requires the governmental body to release all or part of the requested information, the governmental body is responsible for taking the next step. Based on the statute, the attorney general expects that, upon receiving this ruling, the governmental body will either release the public records promptly pursuant to section 552.221(a) of the Government Code or file a lawsuit challenging this ruling pursuant to section 552.324 of the Government Code. If the governmental body fails to do one of these things, then the requestor should report that failure to the attorney general's Open Government Hotline, toll

² We assume that the "representative sample" of records submitted to this office is truly representative of the requested records as a whole. See Open Records Decision Nos. 499 (1988), 497 (1988). If this ruling requires or permits the governmental body to withhold all or some of the requested information, the requestor can appeal that decision by suing the governmental body. Id. § 552.321(a); Texas Dep't of Pub. Safety v. Gilbreath, 842 S.W.2d 408, 411 (Tex. App.—Austin 1992, no writ).

Please remember that under the Act the release of information triggers certain procedures for costs and charges to the requestor. If records are released in compliance with this ruling, be sure that all charges for the information are at or below the legal amounts. Questions or complaints about over-charging must be directed to Hadassah Schloss at the Office of the Attorney General at (512) 475-2497.

If the governmental body, the requestor, or any other person has questions or comments about this ruling, they may contact our office. Although there is no statutory deadline for contacting us, the attorney general prefers to receive any comments within 10 calendar days of the date of this ruling.
