

ATTORNEY GENERAL OF TEXAS
GREG ABBOTT

June 3, 2008

Mr. David K. Walker
Montgomery County Attorney
207 West Phillips, 1st Floor
Conroe, Texas 77301

OR2008-07503

Dear Mr. Walker:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 311630.

The Montgomery County Sheriff's Department (the "sheriff") received a request for crime scene photos, gun shot residue results, witness statements and cellular telephone records from two specific individuals pertaining to a specific case. You state that you will release some of the requested information. You claim that the submitted information constitutes grand jury records subject to article 20.02 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. We have considered your arguments and reviewed the submitted information.

Article 20.02(a) of the Code of Criminal Procedure provides that "[t]he proceedings of the grand jury shall be secret." Crim. Proc. Code art. 20.02(a). You state that the cellular telephone records were obtained pursuant to a grand jury subpoena. This office has concluded that grand juries are not subject to the Act and that records that are within the constructive possession of grand juries are not public information subject to disclosure under the Act. See Open Records Decision No. 513 (1988). When an individual or entity acts at the direction of the grand jury as its agent, information prepared or collected by the agent is within the grand jury's constructive possession and is not subject to the Act. See id. Information that is not so held or maintained is subject to the Act and may be withheld only if a specific exception to disclosure is applicable. See id. Thus, to the extent that the cellular telephone records, which we have marked, are in the custody of the sheriff as an agent of the grand jury, such information is in the constructive possession of the grand jury and is therefore not subject to disclosure under the Act.

Article 20.02, however, does not define “proceedings” for purposes of subsection (a). Therefore, we have reviewed case law for guidance, and found that Texas courts have not often addressed the confidentiality of grand jury subpoenas under article 20.02. Nevertheless, the court in In re Reed addressed the issue of what constitutes “proceedings” for purposes of article 20.02(a) and stated that although the court was aware of the policy goals behind grand jury secrecy, the trial court did not err in determining the grand jury summonses at issue were not proceedings under article 20.02. See In re Reed, 227 S.W.3d 273, 276 (Tex. App.—San Antonio 2007, no pet.). The court further stated that the term “proceedings” could “reasonably be understood as encompassing matters that take place before the grand jury, such as witness testimony and deliberations.” Reed, 227 S.W.3d at 276. The court also discussed that, unlike federal law, article 20.02 does not expressly make subpoenas confidential. See Reed, 227 S.W.3d at 276; FED. R. CRIM. P. 6(e)(6).

Subsequent to the ruling in Reed, the 80th Legislature, modeling federal law, added subsection (h) to article 20.02 to address grand jury subpoenas. See Crim. Proc. Code art. 20.02; FED. R. CRIM. P. 6(e)(6) (“Records, orders, and subpoenas relating to grand-jury proceedings must be kept under seal to the extent and as long as necessary to prevent the unauthorized disclosure of a matter occurring before a grand jury.”). Article 20.02(h) states that “[a] subpoena or summons relating to a grand jury proceeding or investigation must be kept secret to the extent and for as long as necessary to prevent the unauthorized disclosure of a matter before the grand jury.” Crim. Proc. Code art. 20.02(h). This provision, however, does not define or explain what factors constitute “necessary to prevent the unauthorized disclosure of a matter before the grand jury.” Id. Because subsection (h) is modeled on federal law, we reviewed federal case law for guidance on a definition or explanation of the factors that would constitute “necessary to prevent the unauthorized disclosure of a matter before the grand jury” for the purposes of keeping grand jury subpoenas secret. Our review of federal case law revealed that federal courts have ruled inconsistently on the issue of whether or not grand jury subpoenas must be kept secret. FED. R. CRIM. P. 6(e)(6) advisory committee’s note (stating federal case law has not consistently stated whether or not subpoenas are protected by rule 6(e)). Furthermore, even if we considered article 20.02 to be a confidentiality provision, information withheld under this statute would only be secret “for as long as necessary to prevent the unauthorized disclosure of a matter before the grand jury.” Id.

In this instance, you have not submitted any arguments explaining how the matters upon which the submitted subpoena was based are still “before the grand jury” to warrant keeping any of the remaining information, which includes the subpoena request form, court orders, related correspondence, and the subpoena secret. Therefore, upon review of article 20.02 and related case law, it is not apparent, and you have not otherwise explained, how this provision makes any of the remaining information confidential. See Open Records Decision No. 478 (1987) (as general rule, statutory confidentiality requires express language making information confidential). Consequently, the remaining information may not be withheld under article 20.02 of the Criminal Code of Procedure.

In summary, to the extent the marked cellular telephone records are held by the sheriff as an agent of the grand jury, such information is in the grand jury's constructive possession and is not subject to disclosure under the Act. The remaining information must be released.

This letter ruling is limited to the particular records at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other records or any other circumstances.

This ruling triggers important deadlines regarding the rights and responsibilities of the governmental body and of the requestor. For example, governmental bodies are prohibited from asking the attorney general to reconsider this ruling. Gov't Code § 552.301(f). If the governmental body wants to challenge this ruling, the governmental body must file suit in Travis County within 30 calendar days. Id. § 552.324(b). In order to get the full benefit of such a challenge, the governmental body must file suit within 10 calendar days. Id. § 552.353(b)(3), (c). If the governmental body does not appeal this ruling and the governmental body does not comply with it, then both the requestor and the attorney general have the right to file suit against the governmental body to enforce this ruling. Id. § 552.321(a).

If this ruling requires the governmental body to release all or part of the requested information, the governmental body is responsible for taking the next step. Based on the statute, the attorney general expects that, upon receiving this ruling, the governmental body will either release the public records promptly pursuant to section 552.221(a) of the Government Code or file a lawsuit challenging this ruling pursuant to section 552.324 of the Government Code. If the governmental body fails to do one of these things, then the requestor should report that failure to the attorney general's Open Government Hotline, toll free, at (877) 673-6839. The requestor may also file a complaint with the district or county attorney. Id. § 552.3215(e).

If this ruling requires or permits the governmental body to withhold all or some of the requested information, the requestor can challenge that decision by suing the governmental body. Id. § 552.321(a); Texas Dep't of Pub. Safety v. Gilbreath, 842 S.W.2d 408, 411 (Tex. App.—Austin 1992, no writ).

Please remember that under the Act the release of information triggers certain procedures for costs and charges to the requestor. If records are released in compliance with this ruling, be sure that all charges for the information are at or below the legal amounts. Questions or complaints about over-charging must be directed to Hadassah Schloss at the Office of the Attorney General at (512) 475-2497.

If the governmental body, the requestor, or any other person has questions or comments about this ruling, they may contact our office. Although there is no statutory deadline for contacting us, the attorney general prefers to receive any comments within 10 calendar days of the date of this ruling.

Sincerely,

Chris Schulz
Assistant Attorney General
Open Records Division
