OR2015-01548

Dear Mr. Pittman:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 551482.

The City of Wylie (the "city"), which you represent, received a request for any documentation detailing legal fees paid by the city to outside counsel for work on a specified topic during a specified time period. You claim the submitted information is privileged under rule 503 of the Texas Rules of Evidence.¹ We have considered your argument and reviewed the submitted information.

Initially, we note you have marked portions of the submitted information as not responsive to the instant request for information. This ruling does not address the public availability of non-responsive information, and the city need not release non-responsive information to the requestor.

¹Although you raise section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with Texas Rule of Evidence 503, this office has concluded section 552.101 does not encompass discovery privileges. See Open Records Decision Nos. 676 at 1-2 (2002), 575 at 2 (1990).

Next, we note the submitted information consists of attorney fee bills. You acknowledge, and we agree, the submitted attorney fee bills are subject to section 552.022(a)(16) of the Government Code. Section 552.022(a)(16) provides for required public disclosure of “information that is in a bill for attorney’s fees and that is not privileged under the attorney-client privilege,” unless the information is confidential under the Act or other law. Gov’t Code § 552.022(a)(16). You raise rule 503 of the Texas Rules of Evidence for the responsive portions of the submitted attorney fee bills. The Texas Supreme Court has held the Texas Rules of Evidence are “other law” within the meaning of section 552.022. See In re City of Georgetown, 53 S.W.3d 328, 336 (Tex. 2001). Accordingly, we will consider your assertion of the attorney-client privilege under Texas Rule of Evidence 503 for the responsive portions of the submitted attorney fee bills.

Texas Rule of Evidence 503(b)(1) provides the following:

A client has a privilege to refuse to disclose and to prevent any other person from disclosing confidential communications made for the purpose of facilitating the rendition of professional legal services to the client:

(A) between the client or a representative of the client and the client’s lawyer or a representative of the lawyer;

(B) between the lawyer and the lawyer’s representative;

(C) by the client or a representative of the client, or the client’s lawyer or a representative of the lawyer, to a lawyer or a representative of a lawyer representing another party in a pending action and concerning a matter of common interest therein;

(D) between representatives of the client or between the client and a representative of the client; or

(E) among lawyers and their representatives representing the same client.

Tex. R. Evid. 503(b)(1). A communication is “confidential” if it is not intended to be disclosed to third persons other than those to whom disclosure is made in furtherance of the rendition of professional legal services to the client or those reasonably necessary for the transmission of the communication. Id. 503(a)(5).

When asserting the attorney-client privilege, a governmental body has the burden of providing the necessary facts to demonstrate the elements of the privilege in order to withhold the information at issue. See ORD 676 at 6-7. Thus, in order to withhold attorney-client privileged information from disclosure under rule 503, a governmental body must (1) show the document is a communication transmitted between privileged parties or reveals a confidential communication; (2) identify the parties involved in the communication; and (3) show the communication is confidential by explaining it was not intended to be disclosed to third persons and it was made in furtherance of the rendition of professional legal services to the client. Id. Upon a demonstration of all three factors, the entire communication is privileged and confidential under rule 503, provided the client has not waived the privilege or the document does not fall within the purview of the exceptions to the privilege enumerated in rule 503(d). Huie v. DeShazo, 922 S.W.2d 920, 923 (Tex. 1996) (privilege extends to entire communication, including facts contained therein); In re Valero Energy Corp., 973 S.W.2d 453, 457 (Tex. App.—Houston [14th Dist.] 1998, orig. proceeding) (privilege extends to entire communication, including factual information).

You contend the attorney-client privilege is applicable to the entirety of the responsive information. We note section 552.022(a)(16) provides information “that is in a bill for attorney’s fees” is not excepted from disclosure unless the information is confidential under the Act or other law or protected by the attorney-client privilege. See Gov’t Code § 552.022(a)(16) (emphasis added). Thus, by its express language, section 552.022(a)(16) does not permit an attorney fee bill to be withheld in its entirety. See also Open Records Decisions Nos. 676 (attorney fee bill cannot be withheld in its entirety on basis it contains or is attorney-client communication pursuant to language in section 552.022(a)(16)), 589 (1991) (information in attorney fee bill is excepted only to extent it reveals client confidences or attorney’s legal advice). Accordingly, we will determine whether the city may withhold any information within the responsive portion of the fee bills under rule 503. You state the responsive information constitutes communications between employees of the city and attorneys for the city that were made for the purpose of facilitating the rendition of professional legal services. You state the city has not waived the attorney-client privilege with regard to the communications. Upon review, we find the city may withhold the information we have marked under Texas Rule of Evidence 503. However, we find the remaining responsive information either does not constitute communications for purposes of rule 503 or does not document communications with individuals you have established are privileged parties. Accordingly, we find you have failed to demonstrate the applicability of the attorney-client privilege to the remaining responsive information, and the city may not withhold this information under rule 503 of the Texas Rules of Evidence. As you raise no further exceptions to disclosure, the city must release the remaining responsive information.

This letter ruling is limited to the particular information at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other information or any other circumstances.
