Ms. Yvette Aguilar

City of Corpus Christi
P.O. Box 9277

OR2016-14726

Dear Ms. Aguilar:

You ask whether certain information is subject to required public disclosure under the Public Information Act (the "Act"), chapter 552 of the Government Code. Your request was assigned ID# 616344 (CCPD File No. SRod3).

The Corpus Christi Police Department (the "department") received a request for information, including GPS data, pertaining to a specified incident. You state you will release some information. You claim portions of the submitted information are excepted from disclosure under section 552.101 of the Government Code. We have considered the exception you claim and reviewed the submitted information.

Section 552.101 of the Government Code excepts from public disclosure "information considered to be confidential by law, either constitutional, statutory, or by judicial decision." Gov't Code § 552.101. Section 552.101 encompasses information protected by other statutes. As part of the Texas Homeland Security Act (the "HSA"), sections 418.176 through 418.182 were added to chapter 418 of the Government Code. These provisions make confidential certain information related to terrorism. Section 418.176 provides, in relevant part:

(a) Information is confidential if the information is collected, assembled, or maintained by or for a governmental entity for the purpose of preventing, detecting, responding to, or investigating an act of terrorism or related criminal activity and:

(1) relates to staffing requirements of an emergency response provider, including law enforcement agency, a fire-fighting agency, or an emergency services agency; [or]

(2) relates to a tactical plan of the provider[.]

Id. § 418.176(a)(1), (2). Section 418.181 of the Government Code provides, [t]hose documents or portions of documents in the possession of a governmental entity are confidential if they identify the technical details of particular vulnerabilities of critical infrastructure to an act of terrorism.

Id. § 418.181; see also id. § 421.001 (defining “critical infrastructure” to include all public or private assets, systems, and functions vital to security, governance, public health and safety, economy, or morale of state or nation). The fact that information may relate to a governmental body’s security concerns does not make the information per se confidential under the HSA. See Open Records Decision No. 649 at 3 (1996) (language of confidentiality provision controls scope of its protection). Furthermore, the mere recitation by a governmental body of a statute’s key terms is not sufficient to demonstrate the applicability of a claimed provision. As with any exception to disclosure, a governmental body asserting one of the confidentiality provisions of the HSA must adequately explain how the responsive records fall within the scope of the claimed provision. See Gov’t Code § 552.301(e)(1)(A) (governmental body must explain how claimed exception to disclosure applies).

The submitted information includes automatic vehicle locator (“AVL”) records and information relating to the number and location of interrogation rooms. You state the AVL records are “collected, assembled, and maintained by the [department] for the purpose of preventing, detecting, responding to, or investigating an act of terrorism or related criminal activity.” You further state the AVL records “ensure that the location of every [d]epartment officer is known at all times” and “reflect patterns of officer deployment and varying methods of response and associated response times in real-time.” You state the information relating to location and number of interrogation rooms “relates to the [d]epartment’s staffing requirements and tactical plan” and is maintained for “the purposes of for the purpose of preventing, detecting, responding to, or investigating an act of terrorism or related criminal activity.” Upon review, we find you have demonstrated the submitted AVL records relate to the department’s staffing requirements and tactical plan, and are maintained by the department for the purpose of preventing, detecting, responding to, or investigating an act of terrorism or related criminal activity. Therefore, the department must withhold the information we marked under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with section 418.176 of the Government Code.<sup>1</sup> However, we find you have failed to demonstrate any of the remaining information relates to the staffing requirements of an emergency response provider or a tactical plan of the provider. Further, we find you have not demonstrated any of the remaining information identifies the technical details of particular vulnerabilities of critical infrastructure. Consequently, the department may not withhold any of the remaining information under section 552.101 of the Government Code in conjunction with section 418.176 or 418.181 of the Government Code. As you raise no further exceptions to disclosure, the department must release the remaining information.

This letter ruling is limited to the particular information at issue in this request and limited to the facts as presented to us; therefore, this ruling must not be relied upon as a previous determination regarding any other information or any other circumstances.

This ruling triggers important deadlines regarding the rights and responsibilities of the governmental body and of the requestor.
