

NCP CHOICES

“...no one really told me they were going to find me a job but they just basically put me on the right path...

I just had to reach for it...”

– Austin, Texas

Do you need help finding a job so you can pay child support?

Noncustodial (NCP) Choices participants get

- Personalized career counseling
- Job search guidance, job leads and career planning
- Additional employment support services, such as: short-term training, work experience and transportation assistance

NCP Choices works

- Participants find jobs, on average, within eight weeks.
- Average starting wage is $9/hour, and as high as $32/hour, depending on skills and job openings.
- Participants get back on track with their child support.

Ask the child support staff for more information.

A collaboration between the Office of the Attorney General, Texas Workforce Commission and Child Support (IV-D) Courts.
