Texas Office of the Attorney General Names Houston Child Support Employee Assistant Attorney General of the Year
Angela Jeffries singled out as region's top attorney for dedication to Texas children

Houston – The Office of the Attorney General recognized Angela Jeffries, an Assistant Attorney General (AAG) in the Child Support Division's Houston office, for her commitment to Texas children. Jeffries was named Assistant Attorney General of the Year for the Child Support Division's Region 6. She was presented with the award on Wednesday, July 26, 2023, at the Statewide Assistant Attorneys General Conference.

"I am honored to commend Angela for her unwavering commitment and tireless efforts in support of Texas children and families," Angela Colmenero, Provisional Attorney General said. "Her approach exemplifies the best of public service and is an inspiration to us all. I extend my heartfelt gratitude to Angela for selflessly answering the call to serve the people of Texas."

One Assistant Attorney General was selected for this honor from each of the state's ten child support field regions, along with an Assistant Attorney General from the Child Support Division State Office in Austin. Honorees are chosen based upon recommendations from their peers and supervisors, with a particular focus on employees who are willing to go beyond their normal duties to serve Texas children. Each recipient demonstrates a desire to serve Texas families, help their colleagues and enhance the Attorney General's Child Support Division.

Jeffries, who joined the Office of the Attorney General in 2019, represents the State of Texas in legal actions to establish paternity between children of unmarried parents and their biological fathers. She also works to establish, enforce, and modify court orders that require parents to provide child support, medical support and dental support.

A graduate of the Texas Southern University Thurgood Marshall School of Law, Jeffries was chosen to be the region's Assistant Attorney General of the Year for being an exemplary attorney, willing trainer and a strong leader. She has demonstrated the willingness to take on any task and provide wise legal direction to her co-workers. She has earned the reputation as a reliable leader.

"Angela is the personification of a dedicated and loyal employee and takes every responsibility thrown at her with poise and grace. She is calm, kind and smart and does not hesitate to do anything and everything to assist her team in achieving success. Angela makes sure her assigned job is completed 110%, while taking the time to help her colleagues. If there is anything that needs to be handled, Angela is ready to tackle the task without complaint or hesitation. Angela is a joy to be around and an asset to the team and the agency.” said Andrea Perrard, Region 6 Managing Attorney.

The Attorney General’s Child Support Division offers an array of services to help families, including locating absent parents; establishing paternity for children born to unmarried parents; establishing, enforcing and modifying child and medical support orders; and collecting and distributing child support payments.
